Behavioral Health Services
“ONE TEAM”
We’re All In This Together

“One Team”

The Department of Behavioral Health (DBH) provides outpatient and inpatient treatment and consultation related to the management and treatment of behavioral health issues and concerns. The DBH consists of behavioral health services provided at the Resilience & Restoration Center (R&R Center), the Department of Social Work (DSW), and the Hospital and Administrative Psychiatry Service. While not part of the Department of Behavioral Health, information regarding Fort Hood’s Resiliency Campus and Military One Source are also provided as part of this brochure.

Mission
To provide high quality, customer focused, accessible and comprehensive health service in support of other Contingency Operations and the Army Medical Action Plan.
To promote resilience for our Soldiers and their Families, enhancing readiness and deployability.
To conserve the fighting strength through a culture of excellence in our continuum of medical training.
Setting the standard and being accountable to our Nation.

Vision
We are the face of Army Medicine: Quality healthcare for our Army starts here!
Access to world-class care, nationally recognized medical training and courteous service are our core competencies.
We develop 21st century leaders, accountable to our Army and our beneficiaries.

We Believe...
Resilience & Restoration Center

The Resilience and Restoration Center (R&R Center) provides psychological and consultation services as appropriate to maintain the behavioral health of active-duty personnel. The R&R Center is staffed with active-duty and civilian professionals including psychiatrists, psychiatric nurse practitioners, clinical psychologists, licensed clinical social workers, and psychology technicians. The R&R Center is composed of four clinics, including the Urgent Care Triage Clinic, the R&R Center Routine Care Clinic, the Warrior Combat Stress Reset Program, and the 1st Cavalry Division Embedded Behavioral Health Team.

The Urgent Care Triage Clinic is a walk-in service. Soldiers may self-refer, or may be referred by commanders, providers, Chaplains, and Fort Hood agencies. Soldiers who walk in for care receive an initial assessment. Depending on their needs, Soldiers may be seen immediately or scheduled for an appointment at a later date. Soldiers with thoughts of harming themselves or others should go immediately to the Urgent Care Triage Clinic in Building 36009, 285-6881. Hours of Operation are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from 7:15 a.m. to 12 p.m. (noon). For after hours care go to Darnall Army Medical Center’s Emergency Department.

The Resilience and Restoration Center is the central location for outpatient behavioral health treatment on Fort Hood. Patients may self-refer to this program by visiting the Urgent Care Triage Clinic for initial assessment. Once initial assessment is made, follow-up appointments are seen at the main R&R Center, Building 36003.

Services

- Emergency Evaluation of individuals with thoughts of harming self or others
- Medication Assessment and Management
- Adult Individual Therapy: Solution-focused

  - Hyper-Arousal (Irritability, edginess, jumpiness, anger, or inability to relax)
  - Intrusive thoughts or memories of combat or deployment
  - Avoidance symptoms
  - Anxiety/depression
  - Emotional numbing
  - Poor sleep or nightmares
  - Difficulty concentrating

Interventions are aimed at reducing hyper-arousal and restoring self-regulation/awareness/ control and include:

- Education
- Individual and Group Therapy
- Coping Skills Training
- Biofeedback
- Complementary Alternative Medicine including:
  - Acupuncture
  - Massage
  - Meditation
  - Reiki/Bioenergy Therapies
  - Reflexology
  - Sound Therapy
  - Energy Therapy
  - Tai Chi
  - Yoga

Referrals

Referrals to the Warrior Combat Stress Reset Program may be made by behavioral health providers, other healthcare providers, self, unit, spouses or significant others.

Safeguarding Soldier Health: The Post-Deployment Health Reassessment (PDHRA)

To safeguard the health and well-being of all Soldiers, the U.S. Army implemented the Post-Deployment Health Reassessment, or PDHRA, in January 2006. A Commander’s Program, the PDHRA gives Soldiers an opportunity to address any health concerns that may emerge following redeployment. It is available to all Soldiers -- Active and Reserve Component -- who have returned from combat.

Returning home and settling back into a routine can be filled with excitement and discovery. Soldiers may start facing health concerns that they may not have noticed before.

The Reason for PDHRA
Research shows that identifying these health concerns as soon as possible strongly impacts the long-term health and well-being of Soldiers and their Families. The Army wants to help Soldiers address their health concerns before they develop into more serious problems.

How to Complete the PDHRA
Soldiers who have returned from a combat deployment since March 10, 2005, must complete the PDHRA. In most cases, the PDHRA takes place 90 to 180 days after redeployment. Commanders will notify Soldiers to participate in the PDHRA process, and Soldiers can log on to Army Knowledge Online to check their PDHRA status under “My Medical Readiness.”

To completed the PDHRA, Soldiers fill out DD Form 2900 and speak one-on-one with a health care provider. The health care provider will refer Soldiers for further evaluation and treatment, if necessary. Most Soldiers will complete the PDHRA as part of a unit-scheduled event, through an appointment, or on a walk-in basis.

PDHRA at Fort Hood
Our program is all about Soldiers’ Health: physical and mental. Our staff is dedicated to caring for our returning heroes.

New Parent Support Program

This program is comprised of a professional team of licensed, Masters-level social workers and registered nurses who provide supportive and caring services to military families with children up to 3 years old.

Our trained, supervised home visitors have extensive knowledge of the issues confronting parents today. Home visitors are sensitive to the unique challenges facing military families. New Parent Support Program home visitors can answer your questions and discuss and bring information on any topic related to parenting young children. In addition, home visitors can assist your family in finding additional community resources.

Eligibility

All services are free of charge. Target population is military families with children from birth - 3 years, including families who are expecting a baby.

Services

- Home Visitations (by appointment): In-home parenting education and educational counseling, support, referral assistance. Visitors help families learn to cope with:
  - Stress
  - Isolation
  - Post-Deployment Reunions
  - Everyday Demand of Parenthood
- Explore Learning & Play (formerly, play morning): A weekly parent-child play group. Free play and activities. Meets every Wednesday at the Bronco Youth Center from 9:30 - 11 a.m.
- Support Group
- Parenting Education

What NPSP Can Do For You...

This program offers expectant parents and parents of newborns and young children, the opportunity to improve their parenting knowledge, skills and confidence. The New Parent Support Program is a reliable source for answers to your parenting questions in the privacy of your home.

Think you’re not a “new” parent? Even if you’ve been raising your family for a few years, new ages and stages of development bring different challenges. Even if you have older children, you continue to be eligible for NPSP if you are expecting a baby or have a child who is 3 years old or younger.

First baby or new addition? Often adding a new baby presents a real change in the family whether this is your first baby or a new addition. Demands on your time are different with more than one child in your home, and demands of a newborn can be overwhelming. Sometimes the marital relationship is stressed because of differences in parenting styles and attitudes.

Home Visits

Meet with a professional who can answer your questions, bring you information, and talk to you about your concerns as a parent or parent-to-be in the privacy of your own home.

Support Group

Share and learn parenting principles and experiences to build confidence and establish a support system.

Parenting Education

NPSP offers parenting education through home visitation. Your home visitor will work with you on the parenting topics and issues of concern to your family in order to meet your individual needs.

Explore Learning & Play

Our playgroup offers a weekly opportunity to meet other parents while children socialize, learn, and join in play activities. Fun and age appropriate play for young children up to 3 years old. Come join the group!

- To become more confident as a parent
- To understand the ages and stages of your child’s development in order to make wise choices
- To develop a support system
- To lessen stress
- To improve communication between you and your spouse
- To learn why kids do what they do
- To develop common ground with your spouse in the area of parenting
- To improve your relationship with your children
- To make parenting fun
- To be a better parent to your child
- To feel more at home in the military

“The key is in having a destination, a flight plan, a compass.” - Stephen R. Covey
Stress may be defined as a psycho-physiological response to a perceived threat. People who encounter stressors, or perceived threats, experience a stress response. That response includes physical, emotional, and cognitive components in both an acute and long-term process. An acute stress response involves, among other physiologic changes, the body’s sympathetic nervous system secreting adrenaline and/or the adrenal glands secreting cortisol in an attempt to make our body or behavior more capable of dealing with threats to our well-being. The powerful effect of these hormones when prolonged can have an adverse impact on health. For example, cortisol is a powerful immunosuppressive.

Trauma may be considered as the psychological effect of severe or prolonged stress. Generally this involves experiencing or witnessing threats of death or serious injury to either self or others. What is “traumatized” in this experience is the sense of the self as safe, protected, or invulnerable. Various behavioral and emotional effects are common in response to trauma. These effects generally fall along a continuum, but may be quite severe and disruptive to daily role functioning and overall quality of life. Fortunately, they frequently diminish with time and supportive interpersonal interaction. However, for some people, symptoms may persist leading to potential problems associated with post traumatic stress disorder, or PTSD. In such cases, professional treatment has been found to be helpful in either eliminating or reducing symptoms.

The Soldier & Family Assistance Center (SFAC) provides tailored integrated support services while serving as an information broker/clearing house in a location proximate to Warriors in Transition (“WT”) and their Families. The purpose of the services is to equip and aid Warriors in making life changing decisions as they transition either back to duty or to civilian life.

Services

The following services are available through the SFAC:

- Entitlement and benefits counseling
- Military Personnel Services, such as ID cards
- Educational services
- Transition/employment assistance
- Social services to include financial counseling, stress management, translator coordination and Exceptional Family Member services
- Travel pay for Family Members on Invitational Travel Orders (ITO)
- Substance abuse information and referral for Family members
- Coordination of legal and pastoral Services
- Emergency housing plans for non-medical attendants who provide care for the Warrior in Transition
- Assistance in identifying lodging resources for Family Members
- Child care referral
- Accept and manage donations
- Coordination with Army Reserve, State and local agencies
- Coordination with National Guard, State and local agencies

Additional Information

This information on TBI and more can be found at the Deployment Health Clinical Center (DHCC) Web site. Visit www.pdhealth.mil.

www.PDHealth.mil is the Official Web site of the DoD Deployment Health Clinical Center located at Walter Reed Army Medical Center, Washington, D.C.
Military OneSource

Nationwide

Military OneSource uses a nationwide network of counselors to arrange for local face-to-face counseling sessions. During the telephone assessment, the consultant will provide a list of counselors that best matches the needs of the caller. Generally, counselors are located within a 30-mile radius of the caller. Callers are provided with all necessary contact details and encouraged to connect with the face-to-face counselor as soon as possible.

Personal and Relationships

Military OneSource can help with issues including depression, addiction and recovery, stress, grief and loss, relationships, or issues related to deployment. In addition, free face-to-face counseling sessions can be arranged in your local community (in the continental U.S., Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico).

Child Care and Parenting

Specialized consultants can help you locate licensed child care providers in your area, as well as help with other parenting issues, such as ways to help your children succeed with homework or how to help your children adjust to a move.

Deployment and Reunion

Through both the web site and the toll-free number, you can locate information for service members and their families about dealing with deployment. You’ll find information on staying connected with your children while you’re deployed, or information for Guard and Reserve members returning to work after a deployment.

Money

The Military OneSource financial team can help with budgeting, debt reduction, credit issues, and tax preparation. Financial planners are available by appointment for more detailed financial concerns. The Web site provides additional financial resources, including calculators for loans, debt reduction, and budgeting.

Legal

Depending on your service branch, Military OneSource legal services are provided as a supplement to your installation’s Legal Assistance Office. The Military OneSource legal team includes licensed attorneys who can provide legal information and education.

Violence and Trauma

Military OneSource consultants can help you talk with your children about issues of war and violence. We also provide information, resources, and counseling on issues related to emergencies and natural disasters, including planning and preparedness.

Face-to-Face Counseling

A Military OneSource consultant can refer service members or eligible Family Members to licensed professional counselors in the local community for six sessions per issue at no cost to the service member or family member (available in the continental U.S., Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico). Face-to-face counseling is designed to address short-term issues dealing with relationships, grief and loss, adjustment to deployment, stress management, parenting, or combat stress.

Army Wounded Warrior Program

Taking care of wounded warriors is an important part of the Army’s mission. The Army Wounded Warrior Program (AW2) is the official U.S. Army program that assists and advocates for severely wounded, ill, and injured Soldiers, Veterans, and their Families, wherever they are located, for as long as it takes. AW2 provides individualized support to this unique population of Soldiers, who were injured or became ill during their service in Overseas Contingency Operations since 9/11.

AW2 is a key component of the Army’s commitment, the Army Family Covenant, to wounded warriors and their Families. All wounded, ill, and injured Soldiers - who are expected to require six months of rehabilitative care and the need for complex medical management - are transitioning to Veteran status. Those who meet AW2 eligibility are simultaneously assigned to Warrior Transition Battalion.

AW2 Advocates assist in the development of courses of action necessary to address needs/goals for AW2-eligible Warriors in Transition and their Families. Services include:

- Advise the Warrior Transition Battalion commander on healthcare and benefit support programs provided by Department of Defense, Department of the Army, Department of Veteran Affairs (VA), Department of Labor, Social Security Administration, as well as other non-governmental agencies.
- Ensure AW2-eligible Warriors in Transition and their Families gain access to medical and non-medical care management services to include medical care, rehabilitation, disability benefits, education, and employment-related programs.
- Anticipate and address future challenges during recovery, rehabilitation, and reintegration for AW2-eligible Warriors in Transition to active duty or transition to civilian life.
- Assist in community outreach and education events establishing a local community support network.

The AW2 Program is the only Army program that assists and advocates from the time of injury and continues throughout the Wounded Warrior Lifecycle of Care of AW2 Soldiers and is not limited by physical location or constrained by recovery or rehabilitation timelines.

 Soldiers have given so much, and the AW2 Program is committed to ensuring that the unique population of AW2 Soldiers and their Families are given the best possible care and successfully return to duty or transition to civilian life.

Army Behavioral Health Web Site
The Army Behavioral Health Web site is available for you. The link is www.behavioralhealth.army.mil

This Web site, provided by the U.S. Army Medical Department, is a growing site that is designed to be a central source of behavioral health information and relevant links for Soldiers, Family Members, providers, news media, and Army Medical Department beneficiaries. Here, you can find information on topics such as:

- Pre and Post Deployment
- Battlemind Training Information
- Suicide Prevention
- Provide Resiliency Training
- PTSD

Wounded Soldier & Family Hotline
The Wounded Soldier and Family Hotline gives wounded/injured Soldiers and their family members a convenient way to resolve medical issues. It also provides a channel for Soldiers’ medical concerns to go directly to senior Army leadership.

The hotline can be reached at (800) 984-8523, 24 hours daily. The center is under the Human Resources Command.

Ombudsman Program
The U.S. Army Medical Command established the Ombudsman program to augment the Army Wounded Soldier and Family Hotline (WSFH). The placement of knowledgeable and compassionate professionals at Medical Treatment Facilities that have significant Warriors in Transition populations will ensure that Soldiers and Family Members have a neutral and informal process for resolving concerns that arise when attempting to navigate complex health care related programs.

Fort Hood’s Ombudsman program helps resolve issues relating to Warriors in Transition Soldiers and their family members. Issues include health care, physical disability processing, Reserve Component medical retention issues, transition to the Veterans Administration, pay issues, and others.

Ombudsman Staff will also assist with issues that come through the Army-wide Wounded Soldier and Family Hotline. In every case, the Ombudsman will attempt to link the Soldier or Family member with the appropriate subject matter expert.

The Ombudsman office on the second floor of Carl R. Darnall Army Medical Center in room 2025. The Fort Hood Ombudsman can be reached by calling 286-7793, 286-7031, or 287-0806, 286-7793, 286-7791. All can be reached via e-mail at crdamc.wtu.ombudsman@amedd.army.mil

Mental Health Hotline
Soldiers who have been reluctant to seek help for mental health problems may call a new automated phone-in assessment program. The hotline is the latest effort to reach out to Soldiers and family members who might not otherwise seek help for post-traumatic stress or other psychological issues. The calls will be conducted in English and Spanish and will operate 24 hours daily. The toll-free number for the Telephone Self-Assessment is (877) 877-3647.

Vets4Warriors
Our toll free peer support line 1-855-838-8255 (1-855-VET-TALK) is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week for National Guard and Reserve service members. Call now for:

- Veteran Peer Support - Every single one of our Peer Counselors is a Veteran.
- Ongoing Support - We follow up when you need us to do so.
- A Wide Range of Referrals - We try to help with legal, housing, medical, psychological and other needs.

WHY CALL A CHAPLAIN?

- When you are facing or experiencing a crisis.
- Staff and patient advocacy.
- A listening, compassionate, and confidential ear.
- Hear a message of hope when you're hurting.
- Crisis intervention.
- Discuss marriage and family issues.
- Planning for your hospital stay.
- When you find yourself at a spiritual crossroad
- AMEN.

Prayer for Hope

As I walk in darkness, help me to believe in the only One worthy of my trust and hope.

O God, how often I have put my hope in things and people rather than in You.

I stand before You in need of Your grace so I may begin to put my hope where it belongs...

I trust You with that which I cannot control.

Take my tired body, my confused mind, my restless soul, and give me rest.

Let me embrace peace and understand my limitations that I might fully know Your grace.

Prayer for Rest

As I stand in need of Your comfort, I feel thoughts directed toward You in this moment.

Why, O Lord, is it so hard for me to keep my mind focused on You?... I am weary.

Prayer for Rest

Your grace.
